

Curriculum Vitae
Andrea Filippetti

Andrea is Researcher at the National Research Council of Italy (CNR). He has graduated and taken his Phd in Economic Science at the University "La Sapienza" of Rome.

He has been DIME Visiting Fellow at Birkbeck College, University of London in 2009, Visiting Researcher at Birkbeck College, University of London in 2011. In the Fall 2011 he has been Fulbright-Schuman Post Doc at Harvard University, Center for European Studies, where he collaborated with Peter Hall.

He has also been on short visiting position in at the University of Queensland, Australia, and Peking University, Beijing, China.

He is interested in the institutions and political economy of decentralization, innovation, the globalization of intellectual property rights, technological change and productivity growth.